

80% of your customers prefer to be texted. Give them what they ask for, and make your sales & service departments more efficient

Textel is an innovative texting company located right here in Missouri. By using Textel, you turn your existing dealership business line into a texting tool to reach out to your customers.

Textel helps you engage current customers and attract new ones, one text at a time. The web based solution is simple to set up with a clean user interface, straight forward pricing and no contracts.

Did you know:

1. 98% of text messages are read, compared to 22% of emails
2. Over 95 million American adults prefer text messages to phone calls
3. 80% of consumers preferred to be texted by a business than called
